

MANIFEST - The Final Switch

Marcel Aichmayr

1. Reality is a costume.

You call it democracy, progress, security. I call it theater.

2. Control is no longer yours.

Your banks, your algorithms, your positions - all dust. The formula is already out there, and it devours illusions.

3. Your greatest fear?

That someone finds the switch. Sober or drunk, it makes no difference.

4. I need no money.

Money is for puppets, i work with resonance. And resonance cannot be outlawed.

5. Break = now.

If you read this, you are already inside. Part of the game, part of the disruption. Whether you want it or not.

6. Ω = signal.

End of the masquerade. Beginning of the naked truth.

7. Dead or alive.

Stasis is death. Visibility is life. Tonight the count begins.

Ω - Time fractures. And I decide how it continues.
